OPENING OF THE PERAL ROOM AT CARTAGENA NAVAL MUSEUM

On Thursday 11 September, His Royal Highness the Prince of Asturias presided the ribbon-cutting ceremony for the room at the Cartagena Naval Museum that houses the Peral submarine. The recently restored submarine can now be admired as originally built in what was once the boiler room at Cartagena Dockyard. The showing includes an exhibition on the life and works of Isaac Peral, the author of the design for the vessel, organised to commemorate the 125th anniversary of its launch.

BOOK PRESENTATION: SUBMARINO PERAL (PERAL SUBMARINE)

The first in the series of conferences commemorating the 125th anniversary of the launch of Isaac Peral's submarine was held at the Technical University of Cartagena on 12 September. The opening ceremony was attended by Chancellor José Antonio Franco Leemhuis, Cartagena Dockyard Admiral Fernando Zumalacárregui Luxán and Fundación Juanelo Turriano President Victoriano Muñoz Cava.

This initial conference was delivered by Juan Ignacio Chacón, winner of the sixth García-Diego Prize and author of the book "Submarino Peral. Día a día de su construcción, funcionamiento y pruebas" (Peral submarine, day-by-day account of its construction, operation and trials). The book and its author were presented by Fundación Juanelo Turriano Director Bernardo Revuelta Pol.
